1. According to a rumor originating in the summer of 1950 and still given credence by the inhabitants of the surrounding area, a military unit occupied the top of Devin Hill (48° 52'N/16° 39'E) in the Mikulov (P 49/S 56) area, during the first half of the year 1950, and erected tents and constructed towers similar to those of a radio station.
2. According to the rumor, access to the top of Devin Hill was forbidden to the civil population and it was believed that the location was the site of a radio jamming station.
3. This same hill was occupied by the German Army and was the site of a German jamming station during World War II.
4. The Austrian population along the Austro-Czech border south of Mikulov know that Devin Hill is forbidden to civilians and that some radio installation with an unknown mission is located there.
